

President's Message

September 2023

Dear Fellow Residents,

Where has summer gone? It seems like yesterday that we were planning the many spring and summer activities! Now we begin to turn our thinking towards autumn but before we do, we are going to give summer one last hurrah with the Luau on September 17. I'm pleased to tell you that Kathy Love has recovered from her shoulder surgery and is raring to go! We are a little late out of the chute on this one but stay tuned for flyers and details to come.

In the coming month, we also have Movie Night: Saving Silverman, Bingo and the Mid-Autumn Moon Festival to look forward to. Come on out, we'd love to see you!

At this point, I'm going to give you a sneak peek at our plans for Halloween so you can start thinking about your costumes. This year we are going to have a pot-luck dinner and screen the movie: Young Frankenstein. We encourage everyone to dress up as one of the movie characters! There will be prizes! More details to come...

The other thing we have to turn our minds to as autumn rolls in, is the elections of the board for next year. If you would like to join the team please let me know and I'll make sure you are on the nomination list.

Last month, I promised to share pictures of the new shed. Well here they are to date. There is still some fine tuning to do but we are off to a great start!

OLD BUSINESS

► VANDALISM

It seems that this has improved with no incidents in the last month.

► CCRVA POOL BOX

Thank you to Genevieve Wensmann who helped Sheila Wark to clean out the CCRVA pool box that holds all of the pool supplies. Many broken and old pool items were thrown out.

► SPIDER SHED

The decorations and event supplies have been moved to the Spider Shed. Sheila Wark would like to thank Bill Hines and Tim Gladwin for their help. Bill Hines helped Sheila Wark move the items back into the shed, allowed us to store the items while the shed was being built and helped put the shelves together. Tim Gladwin helped put the shelves together in the shed.

NEW BUSINESS

► BOARD MEMBERS

Sheila Wark mentioned that the 2024 Board would be looking for new members.

This is an opportunity for Association members to think about participating on the Board.

Some Observations

Trying to make protein shakes but they keep coming out as margaritas.

Today I'm making fish tacos for the person who keeps stealing my lunch from the refrigerator at work.

Skipped the gym today and put on a fitted sheet instead

It was at this point that the manager at Wal-Mart toyed with the idea of maybe opening another checkout...

The closest I get to a spa day is when steam from the dishwasher smacks me in the face.

SOON BEGINS THE ANNUAL CANADIAN

HARVEST OF FROSTED MINI WHEATS

I'M WORRIED ABOUT CRIME SO I ASKED A FRIEND FROM TEXAS WHAT I NEEDED TO PROTECT MY HOME

HE SAID A 9MM, A COUPLE OF CLIPS AND A BOX OF SHELLS
STILL NOT SURE HOW THIS IS SUPPOSED TO WORK

"PRESS ANY KEY TO CONTINUE"

I'm gonna hang around until I see who walks out of this house..

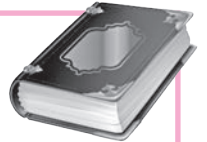

My teacher said "Don't worry about spelling. In the future there will always be autocorrect." For that I'm eternally grapefruit!

The Recipe Box

Four-Herb Parisian Carrot Salad

Costco Connection - August 2023

Instructions

Place carrots in a saucepan of boiling water. Return to boil; cook 5 minutes or until tender-crisp. Drain and rinse the carrots under cold running water. Combine the carrots with all ingredients except lettuce; toss well for 2 minutes to bruise the herbs and bring out the flavors. Cover and chill. To serve, plate the mixture over romaine leaves or toss together in a salad bowl.

Makes 4 servings.

Ingredients

- 1 lb Cal-Organic Baby Carrots
- 1/4 cup fresh dill, chopped
- 1/4 cup fresh oregano, chopped
- 3 Tbsp lemon juice
- 2 Tbsp olive oil
- 1 Tbsp sugar
- 1 Tbsp fresh thyme, chopped
- 1 tsp dried tarragon
- 1 tsp lemon peel
- 1 head of romaine lettuce

Pauline Cushman

(born Harriet Wood; June 10, 1833, December 2, 1893)

Was an American actress and a spy for the Union Army during the American Civil War. She is considered one of the most successful Civil War spies.

Pauline Cushman (born Harriet Wood; June 10, 1833, December 2, 1893) was an American actress and a spy for the Union Army during the American Civil War. She is considered one of the most successful Civil War spies.

Harriet Wood, who later adopted the stage name of Pauline Cushman, was born in New Orleans, Louisiana, on June 10, 1833, the daughter of a Spanish merchant and a Frenchwoman (daughter of one of Napoleon Bonaparte's soldiers). Harriet and her brother William were raised in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Her parents moved there to establish a trading post with indigenous peoples. In 1862, she made her stage debut in Louisville, Kentucky, a Union-occupied city. Later, she would travel to New York where she would take the stage name Pauline Cushman. Over the course of her life, Cushman was married to Jere Fryer, Charles C. Dickinson, and August Fichtner. She had three children: Charles, Ida, and an adopted daughter, Emma.

After a Northern performance, Cushman was paid by two local pro-Confederate men to toast Confederate President Jefferson Davis after the performance. The theatre company forced her to quit, but she had other ideas. She had decided to ingratiate herself with the rebels by making the toast while offering her services to the Union as a spy. By fraternizing with rebel military commanders, she managed to conceal battle plans and drawings in her shoes but was caught twice in 1864 and brought before Confederate General Braxton Bragg, tried by a military court, and sentenced to death by hanging. Though she was already ill, she acted worse off than she was. The Confederates had to postpone her execution. Cushman was spared hanging by the invasion of the area by Union troops. She was also wounded twice. Some reports state that she returned to the South in her role as a spy, dressed in a male uniform. She was awarded the rank of brevet major by General James A. Garfield, made an honorary major by President Abraham Lincoln for her service to the Federal cause, and became known as "Miss Major Pauline Cushman." By the end of the war in 1865, she was touring the country giving lectures on her exploits as a spy.

Because her undercover activities on behalf of the government were secret, there is a lack of corroborative information about her life at this time. After the war, however, she began a tour celebrating her experiences as a Union spy, working at one point with P. T. Barnum. In 1865, a friend, Ferdinand Sarmiento, wrote an exaggerated biography titled The Life of Pauline Cushman: The Celebrated Union Spy and Scout, detailing her early history, her entry into the secret service, notes, and memoranda. She lost her child to sickness by 1868, and married again in 1872 in San Francisco, but was widowed within a year. Sources state that in 1879 she met Jere Fryer, and moved to Casa Grande, Arizona Territory, where they married and operated a hotel and livery stable. Jere Fryer became the sheriff of Pinal County. Their adopted daughter, Emma, died on April 17, 1888, at 6 years old of a seizure. As a result, the Fryers separated in 1890. By 1892, she was living in poverty in El Paso, Texas. She had applied for a back pension based on her first husband's military service which she received in the amount of $12 per month beginning in June 1893. Her last few years were spent in a boarding house in San Francisco, working as a seamstress and charwoman. Disabled from the effects of rheumatism and arthritis, she developed an addiction to pain medication, and on the night of 2 December 1893, she took a suicidal overdose of morphine. She was found the next morning by her landlady.

She died as Pauline Fryer at the age of sixty. The time of her Civil War fame was recalled at her funeral, which was arranged by members of the Grand Army of the Republic; Cushman was buried with full military honours. "Major" Cushman's remains now rest in Officer's Circle at the Presidio's National Cemetery. Her simple gravestone recognizes her contribution to the Union's victory. It is marked, "Pauline C. Fryer, Union Spy." In 1961, the television series Rawhide aired an episode, "The Blue Spy" with Pauline Cushman as the central character, portrayed by veteran actress Phyllis Thaxter. A road at Fort Ritchie, Maryland a now decommissioned Army Post, was named in her honor.

A Little History About our Neighbor Moffett Field

(Originally Airbase Sunnyvale CAL)

After the death of Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, who is credited with the creation of the airfield, in the loss of the USS Akron on 4 April 1933, the airfield at NAS Sunnyvale was renamed NAS Moffett Field on 1 September 1933.

The original mission of the Naval Air Station was to serve as a home base for the Navy dirigible the U.S.S. Macon. Later, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA) established what would eventually become NASA Ames Research Center adjacent to the Naval Air Station.

This location proved to be ideal for an airport since the area is often clear while other parts of the San Francisco Bay are covered in fog. This is due to the Coast Range to the west, which blocks the cold oceanic air that is the cause of San Francisco fog. After the crashing of the Macon on 12 February 1935, the Navy wanted to close Moffett Field due to its high cost of operations.

In 1931, the city of Sunnyvale acquired a 1,000 acres parcel of farmland bordering San Francisco Bay, paid for with nearly $480,000 raised by the citizens of Santa Clara County, then “sold” the parcel for $1 to the US government as a home base for the Navy airship USS Macon.

The naval air station (NAS) was authorized by an Act of Congress, signed by President Herbert Hoover on 12 Feb. 1931. Construction of the original facilities was begun 8 July 1931. The base was originally named Airbase Sunnyvale CAL as it was thought that calling it Mountain View would cause officials to fear airships colliding with mountainsides. The original station was commissioned on 12 April 1933 and dedicated NAS Sunnyvale.

Funny Poems

Missing

I've hunted near, I've hunted far
I even looked inside my car.
I've lost my glasses, I'm in need,
To have them now so I can read.
I loudly swear and I curse
Did I leave them in my purse?
Are they behind the sofa, under the bed?
Oh there they are—on my head!

Messy Room

Whosever room this is should be ashamed!
His underwear is hanging on the lamp
His raincoat is there in the overstuffed chair,
And the chair is becoming quite mucky and damp.
His workbook is wedged in the window,
His sweater's been thrown on the floor.
His scarf and one ski are beneath the TV,
And his pants have been carelessly hung on the door.
His books are all jammed in the closet,
His vest has been left in the hall.
A lizard named Ed is asleep in his bed,
And his smelly old sock has been stuck to the wall.
Whosever room this is should be ashamed!
Donald or Robert or Willie or—
Huh? You say it's mine? Oh, dear,
I knew it looked familiar!

My One-Eyed Love

I've fallen in love—I don't know why
I've fallen in love with a girl with one eye
I knew from the start. It was plain to see
That this wonderful girl had an eye out for me
She's charming and witty and jolly and jocular
Not what you'd expect from a girl who's monocular.
Of eyes—at the moment—she hasn't full quota
But that doesn't change things for me one iota.
It must be quite difficult if you're bereft.
If your left eye is gone and your right eye is left.
But she's made up her mind. She's made her decision.
She can see it quite clearly in 10/20 vision.
She'll not leave me waiting, not left in the lurch
If she looks slightly sideways she'll see me in church.
I'll marry my true love who's gentle and kind.
And thus prove to everyone that loves not quite blind.

Be so HAPPY that when others see you, they become HAPPY too!

Treasure Seekers Permanent Pickup Schedule

A few tips to help you (and the Treasure Seekers Crew)

Be sure to place your recyclables in a container (plastic, paper or reusable container that we will return to you).

Place your containers at the end of your driveway - Not in the street or in the rain gutter.

Put Your “Treasures” Out No Later than 6:00 PM on Sunday Evening.

Editorial Deadline

• 5th of each month

Mail Tubes

A reminder for residents to clean out their mail tubes on a regular basis. It is very difficult to put new material into these tubes when they are stuffed full of old correspondence.
